

Demonstration on Vermi Composting:

Mr. Ramamoorthy was one of the trainees who attended the training on “Vermi Compost and Bio compost”. With the help of field staff of NAF, he has set up Vermicompost bed to use it in his farm land. He mainly cultivates banana and coconuts. He is also spreading awareness to the other farmers who are willing to switch to organic farming. He is now teaching other farmers in his village to prepare “Vermi Composting” and the ways to use it in agricultural land. He regularly motivates farmers and is slowly helping other farmers to replicate this composting technique and reap its benefits in their fields as well.
